Nowadays many people dream of being famous. They believe that it can make them feel more happier than now.

In fact, young people would like to connect their future job with modern technologies. For example, to work as a video blogger. This activity is one of the best way to show your abilities to others. If I were a video blogger, I would upload videos about traveling because I really enjoy talking about other countries.

However, I want to connect my future job with communicating with real people, not with gadgets. I would like to be famous for being the best teacher of English language ever. I want to make students feel themselves comfortable at school and do not be afraid of tests.

To sum up, if you want to be famous for something you like, then never give up and do your best.
